“Search Engine Optimization or SEO”

- the ability to have your website become higher in the ranks
- think of the internet as a library, everything on the internet is a book in that library
- 92% of adults use search engines
- 85% of traffic is referred by search engines
- 80% of consumers do research online before purchasing from a company
- 90% of consumers do not scroll past #30 on results list

Does my website need SEO?

YES, every website needs SEO...you need to create a plan and decide what the goal of your website is, what do I want someone to do when they get to my site

4 Steps to Friendly SEO (back end)

- 1) URL Structures – using real language
- 2) XML Site Map – your own index for your site
- 3) Robots. This is an example of simple text. – close off irrelevant pages
- 4) Canonical URLs

On the front end

- 1) Content is Key (what brings people to your site?)
 - a. Engagement-driven – what do you want the user to do
 - b. Researched – keyword research – what are people looking for, target your geographic market, high demand, low supply
 - c. Quality – useful, usable, accessible, in-depth information, relevant infographics, case studies
- 2) Link-Building
 - a. Out-bound links
 - b. In-bound links

Find out who links to your website

Next Steps:

1. Updated and add fresh content to your website
2. Have someone take a look at your information real people who can give you feedback
